

The European Commission intends to take account on ISO 26000 in its own operations, 25.10.2011

The European Commission recognizes ISO 26000 Guidance Standard on Social Responsibility in the document A renewed EU strategy 2011-14 for Corporate Social Responsibility, 25.10.2011.

The EU Commission intends to monitor the commitments made by European enterprises with more than 1.000 employees to take account of internationally recognised CSR principles and guidelines (such as ISO 26000), and take account of the ISO 26000 Guidance Standard on Social Responsibility in its own operations. (p. 13)

New European Policy http://ec.europa.eu/enterprise/policies/sustainable-business/corporate-social-responsibility/index_en.htm